

On February 17, 2009, the American Recovery and Reinvestment Act (ARRA) was passed by Congress and signed into law by President Obama. ARRA provides increased support to several existing federal programs administered by states, creates new programs such as the State Fiscal Stabilization Fund, and offers opportunities for states to apply for competitive grant programs.

The American Recovery and Reinvestment Act's significant investment in North Carolina totaled almost $19.5 billion, including assistance for those needing help the most through increases in unemployment benefits, Medicaid payments, and food stamps. In addition to those expanded services, ARRA gives hundreds of thousands of working North Carolinians a break through tax credits like the Making Work Pay tax credit and the First Time Homebuyer's tax credit.

The Recovery Act is not like earlier attempts to revive the nation's economy. It is not only a one-time infusion of federal funds; instead it is a long-term effort to restore economic expansion in the short-term, as well as prepare the nation's economy for stable, healthy long-term growth. Under the terms of the Recovery Act, support for North Carolina's economy will include both investments made directly by the federal government and investments of federal funds that are made under the oversight of the North Carolina state government.

Education

The Recovery Act placed a special emphasis on maintaining education funding. Governor Beverly Perdue furthered this commitment by pledging additional recovery funds from the Recovery Act to education, and leading North Carolina to additional funds by winning $400 million in the Race to the Top program.

Most of the ARRA education funds are distributed to local schools through existing funding formulas. Special Education Funds and Title I funds go to schools based on eligible student enrollment. State Fiscal Stabilization Funds (SFSF) and the EduJobs grants were designed to hold schools harmless during the recession, and were distributed to public and charter schools. The school systems have spent the majority of the funds on staff and support. Some projects, such as Race to the Top, will be spent for purchasing products and services rather than salaries for staff.

Authorization for low/no interest bonds for school construction/renovation followed the Department of Public Instruction procedures with initial allotments to the school systems. If a school system could not utilize their allotment, it was released to other school systems that could utilize additional allotments.

Orange County schools received $103 million in education funding, including $4 million in Special Education funds, $1 million in Title I funds, $78 million in SFSF funds, $700,000 in Race to the Top funding and a $14 million bond allocation.

Pell Grants are an educational Assistance Program that provides grants to eligible students to receive post-secondary or vocational training. Because Pell Grants are not student loans, they allow students to receive financial assistance to further education and training without incurring additional debt. The American Recovery and Reinvestment Act increased the eligibility and the maximum amount of Pell Grants in 2009 and 2010 as a way to encourage educational opportunities, and to provide a way for eligible applicants to gain new job skills.

In Orange County, institutions had 3,478 students funded by Pell Grants; these grants were worth more than $6.5 million.

Family Assistance

The Federal Department of Agriculture increased funding to their Single-Family home program with the ARRA. These resources assisted families in achieving the American Dream of home ownership through direct financial assistance (grants) or credit (loan guarantees). This program pumped more than $729 million into North Carolina, providing assistance to more than 5,400 families.

In Orange County, 35 families received assistance through this program totaling more than $5.5 million.

The Department of Energy created the Energy Star Appliance rebate program to help stimulate the economy by incentivizing the purchase of new, more energy efficient appliances, and helping consumers by providing long-term savings from their utility bills. The State Energy Office in the North Carolina Department of Commerce managed the program insuring North Carolina residents and retailers received the maximum benefit from this opportunity. North Carolina retailers sold more than 25,500 new energy efficiency appliances through this program, and North Carolina residents will enjoy energy savings for years to come. The program was so successful, that the State Energy Office reprogrammed additional funding to provide discounts to everyone participating in the program, bringing the total program value from $8 up to $10 Million.

Orange County retailers sold 501 appliances through the Energy Star Appliance rebate program.

Small Business Assistance

The ARRA provided tax breaks, increased depreciation of business assets, and incentives for hiring for small businesses through the tax law changes found in Part B of the Act. The Recovery Act also established direct aid programs through the federal Small Business Administration (SBA) and US Department of Agriculture (USDA). These programs provided grants, loans and loan guarantees to grant small businesses access to much-needed operational credit during 2009 and 2010.

In Orange County, 15 small businesses received SBA loan guarantees worth $6.5. According to the small businesses receiving these loans, the Recovery Act saved or created 188 jobs. Additionally, the USDA Business and Industry Program provided a loan to Public Choice worth $700,000 dollars that saved or created 27 jobs.

Farm Assistance

The Supplemental Revenue Assistance Payments (SURE) Program is administered by the Farm Services Administration in the federal Department of Agriculture, which provides assistance to farmers suffering crop losses due to natural disasters. To qualify for the program a farm must have lost at least 10% of one crop during a natural disaster in a declared disaster county, or lost 50% of a crop during a disaster in a non-disaster county. North Carolina farmers received more than $9 million in total payments under the ARRA-Funded SURE Program.

In Orange County, $16,384 was received in assistance to farmers because of crop loss to natural disasters.

CARS Program

The Car Allowance Rebate Program (CARS), more widely known as the 'Cash-for-Clunkers' program, provided an incentive for drivers of older, energy inefficient vehicles to upgrade to new cars. This program also provided a large economic impact in North Carolina, and North Carolina dealers received more than 18,000 trade-in vehicles through this program. North Carolina Car Dealers sold more than $400,000,000 worth of new cars (recommended MSRP) through the CARS program. North Carolina drivers will save 172,130 miles per gallon through cars purchased through this program.

In Orange County, car dealers sold 70 cars worth $1.6 million through the ARRA CARS program.

Justice and Public Safety Programs

ARRA increased funding to the federal Byrne Justice Assistance Grants Program (JAG). JAG funds were awarded both as a formula allocation to the State, for $34.5 million, and grants distributed by the Governor's Crime Commission to various local governments and entities. In addition, $21,853,798 went to 216 local governments across the state for various purposes in line with the requirements of the act. Finally, there is a federal competitive portion that was open to state or local government applicants.

In Orange County, the Orange County Government, UNC-Chapel Hill, and the Orange County Rape Crisis Center received JAG program grants worth $400,000.

Broadband Programs

The Recovery Act funded two dedicated high-speed broadband programs, the USDA's Broadband Initiatives Program (BIP), and the US Department of Commerce's Broadband Technology Opportunities Program (BTOP). The BIP focused on the creation of new service or the expansion of existing services in rural areas, while the BTOP focused on statewide or regional development of important broadband infrastructure.

In Orange County, UNC-Chapel Hill received a Broadband Data and Development Grant worth $87,000

Green Energy Programs

One of the goals of ARRA was to provide grants to help conserve energy and assist in the development of a green economy. The State Energy Office in the North Carolina Department of Commerce received large grants for energy conservation under the American Recovery and Reinvestment Act. These grants include the Energy Efficiency Conservation Block Grant (EECBG), funded at just under $20 million, and the State Energy Plan (SEP), funded at $70 million. The State Energy Office then used these grants to make awards to businesses, non-profits, and local governments for various purposes.

In Orange County, the Orange County Government received EECBG funding worth $400,000 to install a ground source heat pump, solar hot water system and high efficiency hand dryer at the Emergency Services facility; to provide geothermal heating and cooling to the Orange County judicial facility; and improve lighting, upgrade heating and air conditioning, install a solar hot water heater and other energy-saving improvements at the Piedmont Food & Agriculture Center, and to purchase and install energy efficient processing and storage equipment that will be utilized by area agricultural producers. UNC-Chapel Hill received $325,000 for one fellowship for a recent graduate of a graduate program; two fellowships for recent graduates of undergraduate programs; 12 summer internships for current graduate students; 10 summer internships for current undergraduate students; eight regular session/semester internships for current graduate students; and 28 regular session/semester internships for current graduate students. Go Green Lighting in Chapel Hill received a Green Business Fund Grant worth $300,000 to train a minimum of 350 volunteers to provide energy audits and critical information to business owners regarding available incentives to adopt energy efficient technologies. The volunteer "taskforce" will consist of professional employees of electrical contractors, lighting distributors, audio/visual distributors and lighting consultants.

Safety Net Programs

Safety net programs are the category of ARRA funding that consists of programs designed to help populations made particularly vulnerable by the economic crisis. These generally include increases in existing programs, most notably the increase in both benefit level and duration of unemployment payments. Increases in the amount and duration of unemployment payments makes up the largest chunk of safety net programs funded through the Recovery Act, totaling more than $3.5 billion statewide over more than two years. Safety net programs such as unemployment insurance and SNAP (formerly known as Food Stamps), not only benefit the recipient, but have a proven economic impact on a community.

Orange County residents received $22 million in Unemployment Insurance increases during the 2 ½ year ARRA benefits increase. County residents also received $4 million in SNAP benefit increases, and $3.5 million in one-time payments of $250 to social security recipients.

Orange County received more than $192,000 for Head Start Programs.

Orange County Feature Story

Chapel Hill Leads into the Future with ARRA Research Grants

The goals of the American Recovery and Reinvestment Act included programs designed for furthering education, and building the knowledge base for the 21st century economy. AARA included more than $10 billion to the National Science Foundation and the National Institutes of Health to issue grants to various research institutions. These research grants will help jumpstart America's prosperity, global competitiveness, and the well being of all citizens. The steady stream of new ideas and the highly skilled science, technology, engineering, medical and mathematics talent that NSF and NIH supports will provide the basis of economic recovery long after the end of the grant period. As Dr. Arden Bement, Jr., Director of the National Science Foundation stated, the ARRA funding was "sorely needed to ensure that America remains a leader in science and engineering, research and education. That investment of 3 billion dollars will have an immediate impact on investigators, postdoctoral, graduate and undergraduate students, and teachers throughout the nation."

Research grants were funded through various federal agencies, including the NIH and NSF, and were either won competitively by applicants, or were previously-submitted applications that were funded due to the additional ARRA availability. UNC system institutions submitted applications for more than a billion dollars in proposed grants and were awarded more than $200 million in federal grant funds. Awarded grants range in subject from experimental medical investigations, to lab equipment, new cancer treatment methods, studying economically important environmental resources, studying new educational methodologies, and outreach and training for new industries, among others.

The University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill was a national leader in grant funding. The University and associated hospital system won more than 260 research and equipment grants of more than $132 million.

UNC Chapel Hill drew down funding to study such diverse topics such as nanotechnology, organ transplants, genetics, HIV suppression, disease control and prevention, addiction prevention, advanced mathematics, biomedical engineering, and various disease treatment protocols.

These grants not only pay dividends in results in science, technology and health, they help North Carolina's economy and provide jobs across the state.
